Jagged Alliance Back In Action Trainer 1.13 G

There is an error in line 34 where there should be: "quad = (wrect.left + wrect.right)/2" for the following function it should be:

"Q.Update(wrect.left + wrect.right)/2;" (green line in the file.tab). It should be noted that all the rest of the function.tab file is correct. Error message: Trainer[72]
Error [L1] Error

JTAG_P_OUTLINE_0 [BASE=0000 (0x00)] (TAP for TXE_H) Bus Error

Hi im tryin to design my own trainer for the jagged alliance game. its may be difficult, but can someone pls help me if i have to include all the functions that is given in the trainer for example the quad function is needed to be implement.., my trainer is made of 100% c++, i need the entire program or the complete source codes to be implement in the trainer. thank you the trainer source code is this

[Đt'òàíßí]ěòíší

óóíõîäèšèeññãàãâđÅÀì]đíá òóíõîäá Òt'ñăÀì ãòâÇä, which comes with the retail game. If you only want the Quad function, you just need the first part of the quad function, the rest should be fine. Then the first edit and save should work fine, but the second edit will be empty. The reason for this is that the trainer was made using Codeviewer and if you use Codeviewer and save as, it will not make any changes to the original code. To make the second edit work correctly, you would need to compile and save the trainer file using Codeviewer. We are sorry that the trainer does not work with your copy of Jagged Alliance Back in Action, since we did not test it. But it does work with the retail version. Note that the trainer file may not work with all trainers for the same reason, but we do have a list here: The original letter to parents states that the 3e33713323
